

Poverty Discount

Any chiropractor may discount his or her services for any reason at any time for any patient. The chiropractic state rule is that a chiropractor must notify an insurer each time he or she advertises that he is going to forego collecting the deductible and/or copayment. Other than that, there are no restrictions for a California chiropractor who wants to discount a bill. Nothing is needed in writing from the patient either.

Steven C Eggleston